

Virtual Volunteering with RefuComm

If you've been looking for a way to help refugees, RefuComm has an opportunity for you.

Haven't been able to get to Europe to help? There's still important work - perhaps the most important work yet to be done, and you can do it from wherever you are.

Our volunteer team operates in all corners of the world, supporting our organisation with everything from fundraising, graphic design, social media, human resources, volunteer coordination, accounts, administration. The list is endless and you can 'do your bit' from the comfort of your own home, with full support from us.

We also have virtual teams all over the world who help us to support refugees by providing vital, reliable information. Please ask about our Buddy programme.

For information about what you can do to help refugee from here you are please check our current volunteer vacancies below or send us a speculative application form to Human Resources at refucomm@gmail.com.
