More Information

Once you complete the call, you will get a code and a date to register in person at the Asylum Service Office of their choice (in Athens, Thessaloniki, Alexandroupolis or Rhodes).

At the registration appointment, the applicant will receive a new applicant's card with the date of the asylum interview. The card will also provide access to:

- Health care
- Education
- Right to Work

See rights and obligations of asylum seekers in this document

More Information

Depending on your individual case, it is also possible that you can ask to be transferred to another European country (relocation) or you can ask to join a family member in another European country (reunification). The options that are available to you depend on your individual case and the laws of Greece and the European Union.

The list of appointments will be published on the website of the Asylum Service (<http://asylo.gov.gr>). In addition, if you are living in one of the official sites, the Asylum Service will provide printed lists with all appointments for that site.

It is very important that you go to that appointment to complete your registration. If you miss the appointment, you will need to restart the whole process by booking a new appointment through Skype.

The date of your next appointment at the Asylum Service Office depends on three things:

- 1) the date when you arrived in Greece,
- 2) the language you speak and
- 3) if you have been asking for asylum in Greece, family reunification or relocation.

Full Registration gives you these rights:

You can legally live in Greece until the Asylum Service has made a final decision on your asylum case. This means you cannot be returned to another country against your will, while you wait for the decision.

Children can go to school. Public schools are free in Greece.

You can move freely within Greece after pre-registration, but you are not allowed to go to other European countries.

The Government should offer you a place to live in a site on the mainland. You will not have to pay any rent there. You cannot choose which site the Government offers you. You do not have to live there, if you do not want to.

You can get access to health care, but you will have to pay a minimal fee for services and medicine. Pre-registration does NOT give you the right to work in Greece. You will only get the right to work after you have completed your registration during another appointment with the Asylum Service. This will take place at a later date.

If you do not want to ask for asylum, family reunification or relocation, but you want to have information about or be registered for returning to your home country, you should go to the office of the International Organization of Migration (IOM).

If you have close family members (husband/ wife or a child who is under 18) who are living legally in another European country, you should say that during registration. You will have to show documents that can help to verify what you are saying.

If you are under 18 and you are not travelling with your mother or father, please say this during registration. You should also say if you have any family members that are living legally in another European country. It is very important that you tell the truth about your age.

If you are from Syria, Eritrea, Burundi, Mozambique, Bahrain, Bhutan, Qatar and Yemen, or a stateless person previously residing in one of these countries you may be able to take part in the European relocation program. In that case, you should tell the preregistration clerk if you are interested in living in another European country while your asylum application is examined by that country. However, there is no guarantee that you will be transferred and you cannot choose a country.

Your Asylum Seeker Card

After registration. Each family member gets her/his own card. Make sure to keep this card with you at all times. Do not lose this card, do not laminate and do not write on it. If you lose this card, it will not be replaced! If you do not have this card with you at your next appointment with the Asylum Service, you will need to restart the process by booking a new appointment through Skype.

You and all your family members need to come to all appointments at the Asylum Service together.

If your phone number or address change, you need to email the Asylum Service at new.numbers@asylo.gov.gr. This is very important, because the authorities need to contact you to tell you when to come to the Regional Asylum Office. You need to include your name, date of birth, registration number, new phone number and your new address in this email, in English or Greek.

It is very important that you go to your appointment with the Asylum Service. If you miss the appointment, you will need to restart the whole process by booking a new appointment through Skype. Also: You need to have your asylum seekers card with you at your next appointment with the Asylum Service. If you or any of your family members do not have it with you, you will need to restart the whole process by booking a new appointment through Skype.

If you have any questions about relocation, you can call the EASO hotline for more information. If you are staying in the south of Greece (near Athens) call +30 69 44 82 91 38. If you are staying in the north (near Thessaloniki), call +30 69 89 76 45 98.

The hotlines are open Monday to Friday from 09:00 to 17:00.

You always have the right to talk to UNHCR or organizations that provide legal, medical and psychological assistance.
